NOTES.

People should remember that 100 years ago the use of coal was not known. But for that where would we be today? Hasn't everything, from steam to everything else that follows in machinery working, been the result of the use of coal? Abolish coal today, and what would become, say, of Great Britain? Why, 13,000,000 of the population would starve to death. See the thousand and one things that men work at there and the world over today that depend on coal for their original active basis.—Chauncey M. Depew.

Evolution is the development of an object towards the fulfillment of the end of its being. And it is that development by a force resident in the object itself. What I may become depends in the last analysis upon what is the power within me —the power which by my free acceptance I take, and so cause to be within me.—Rev. Lyman Abbott.

"Gladys," said Bell, "why do you have all those paper snakes hanging around the parlor?" "It's a white ribbon test," answered Gladys; "any young man who can act at home among all those snakes is pretty sure to be a temperance chap."

"That thing ain't no good," said a Frankford citizen as he watched the steam roller at work on North Broad street. "Why?" asked the man addressed. "Why, goshtalmighty, a man can go faster than that on one o' them little bicycles."

The shortest cut to poverty is to try to get rich in a hurry.—Ram's Horn.

The Illustrated Tourist's Guide

That popular work, "THE TOURIST'S GUIDE THROUGH THE HAWAIIAN IS-LANDS," is meeting with a steady sale both at home and abroad. Tourists and others visiting these islands should be in possession of a copy of it. It is a perfect mine of information relating to the scenes and attractions to be met with here. Copies in wrappers can be had at the publication office, 48 Merchant street, and at the News Dealers. Price 60 cents.
